Dear Mr. Steiffel,

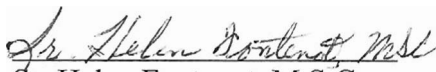

Thank you very much for your contribution of delicious food, serving utensils and friendly servers to our fundraiser, Bookworm Boogie II at Mardi Gras World on Saturday, April 30, 2005. Enjoying the food from our fine cuisines was a highlight of the event. My colleagues at Our Lady of Holy Cross College are also commenting on the generous supply provided by all the restaurants. From time to time, someone will ask the name of the restaurant for a particular dish.

The success of the fundraiser will enable us to subscribe to JSTOR. This database will enhance our resources and assist the students with their research.

I am so sorry that a public acknowledgement of the restaurants was not made. Next time I will know to make the announcements at the beginning of the evening.

May God bless you and your restaurant for your generosity.

Sincerely,
